

Time for Yourself

Now that the hustle of the Holidays is past, perhaps you're up for a self-indulgent treat. After doing so much for the others you care about, it's only fair to spoil and pamper yourself. Coral Springs resident and entrepreneur, Robin Lynn Cook has taken that tack in this latest chapter of her own life. Rather than enjoying an occasional facial or massage, she's made it her business. "After many years in the beauty & cosmetic industry. My dream has come true," she says with excitement. As the proud new owner of Le Boe European Day Spa, Robin couldn't be more thrilled or fulfilled. "We have the most fantastic, highly trained and educated staff for aesthetics, massage, nails, hair, waxing, make-up and permanent make-up. Under my new ownership, we're redecorating and making the Spa more warm and inviting, as well as adding new treatments, beautiful lamp oils, decadent candles and new lines of skin care."

A complete European Day Spa, Le Boe has an offering for everyone, from the grandmother who indulges in a milk & lavender spa pedicure, to the teen getting primped and made over for prom, to the athlete craving a deep tissue or Thai massage, it is all here and more. Desiring an unusual treat? Enjoy the Spa's famous Bootylicious Facial for touchable buns. Also in the spacious and peaceful facility, is a full service area for manicures, waxing and creative hair design. The steam room, shower and relaxation room complete the sense of having every amenity within one's reach..

"I've been coming here for years for facials, waxing, manicures, spa pedicures and other services," says Parkland resident, Cheryl Cleary. Happy to see the positive changes resulting from Robin's ownership, she continues, "They do such a beautiful job, and the people here are like family to me."

Spa Coordinator, Lauren Butzer, has been keeping Le Boe's clients a priority for three years. "I'm really excited about the changes! Robin has already put in a lot more thought and love here. You can just tell when you walk in...everybody is much happier, and we're becoming even more of a family now."

Le Boe will hold its Grand Opening January 11 at XXTIME!!. Those who attend will have a chance to consult with representatives from various skin care lines and view demonstrations by highly trained and experienced staff. Goody bags, food and Spa tours are part of the evening's fun. The appointment book will be OPEN for 10% off any service or product when booked or purchased that evening.
